

Shelter-In-Place

How You Will Be Notified

Army installations and facilities are likely to have multiple mass warning and notification systems to reach personnel.

✓ The checked shelter-in-place advisory systems apply at this facility:

- A voice announcing system using exterior speakers, commonly termed "Giant Voice," and interior speakers or sirens.
- Emergency Alert System (EAS) broadcasts on the radio or TV
- Interactive, community notification systems providing voice and/or data messages to multiple receivers—telephones, cellular phones, pagers, e-mail, etc.
- An administrative broadcast across the Army computer network that overrides applications, thereby reaching all Army users almost instantly.
- Sirens with varying patterns depending on the type of emergency broadcast throughout the installation.

Other

What To Do When Directed To "Shelter-In-Place"

When alerted all personnel should seek shelter in the nearest available facility and designated shelter-in-place area. When traveling from your office, close and latch all windows and doors when you leave. Immediately go to the designated shelter-in-place area and ensure visitors accompany you.

This facility's designated shelter-in-place area is:

Remain in the designated shelter-in-place area until the "All Clear" is announced. Follow instructions from emergency personnel. Report to the designated "All Clear" assembly area and make sure all visitors are escorted.

This facility's designated "All Clear" assembly area is:

After the building is thoroughly cleared and upon instruction from emergency personnel return to normal operations.

This facility's Shelter-in-Place POC is:

Phone #:

It's up to you. Prepare strong. Get an emergency supply kit with enough supplies for at least three days, make an emergency plan with your family and be informed about what might happen.